

Opening of Our Curtain and Portiere Department

This season of the year every lady is making some plan on a change, either in Curtains, Portieres or Couch Covers. We are showing a very large line this season in the above and prices and quality satisfactory to all. Large line of plain and fancy curtains.

Curtains, per pair, from 50c to $12.50. Portieres, per pair, from $1.75c to $18.00. Couch Covers, each, from 89c to $6.50.

The best curtain rod in the city for 10c each. Give us a try for your next want in this line. We can surely please you. Glad to show you our line, if you do not purchase today.

Dress Goods, Silks and Trimmings are moving fast. We have the assortment to show you.

Have you seen our White Goods—all the go this season? They will be very scarce, so buy early.

The Homer Fitts Company

MONARCH VACUUM CLEANER FOR RENT

WE BLOSSOM OUT WITH A SPRING CROP

of simply splendid footwear for men, women and children. Everything in Shoes, Oxfords and Pumps now in our store for the early buyers. Never before have we been able to offer so many new styles and leathers this early in the year.

THEY ARE SHOES THAT GROW in your admiration the more you examine them. Come and be fitted with Oxford, Pump or Shoe.

Peoples Shoe Store,
C. S. ANDREWS, Prop. Barre, Vermont

Concert at Presbyterian Church.

The following program will be given at the concert to be held in the Presbyterian church, Tuesday, March 19, at 8 o'clock. Admission 10 cents. Chorus "The Miller's Wooing".

Vocal solo, "Killarney" Church Choir
Mrs. Alex. Edvard
Piano solo, "The Spanish Dance"
Rev. Duncan Salmon
Vocal solo, "Eileen Allannah"
Miss Alice Walker
Reading, "Rugby's Dinner Party"
Miss Florence Inglis
Vocal solo, "The Green Isle of Erin"
P. W. Mutch
Vocal solo, "The Last Rose of Summer"
Miss Barbara McDonald
Reading, "The Gates Ajar"
Mrs. Duncan Salmon
Vocal duet, "Believe Me of All Those Endearing Young Charms"
Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gauld
Vocal solo, "Neptune" George Mackay
Piano duet, "June Bugs"
Misses Walker and Youngson

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that the granite manufacturing firm of Rust & Brown is dissolved, from the date given below, and that Alfred Brew buys William Brown's interest in the firm, and the business will be continued under the firm name of Rust & Brew; and said firm will collect all bills and pay all bills owing.

William Rust,
William Brown,
Alfred Brew,
Barre, Vt., March 18, 1912.

Just The Hat

that will please you most, fit your head the easiest, look the best on you and of the most enticing quality you ever saw in headwear. Come see them. Prices $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50.

Lamson & Hubbard

Best in America
For Sale by
Frank McWhorter
Company

TOLD TO VACATE.

Central Vermont Tenants Must Make Way for Changes at Brattleboro.

Brattleboro, March 19.—In accordance with the plans approved by representatives of the Boston & Maine and Central Vermont railroads at the series of conferences held in Brattleboro last week, it is believed that work is to begin at once on the double tracking of the road between this place and South Vermont.

This belief was strengthened last night when the Central Vermont road formally notified the various tenants on its land that they must move. The storehouse of the Mellen Hardware company must be removed by April 24, and E. B. Barrows & Co., coal dealers, have until the same date to find another location for their sheds. Robbins & Cows, hardware dealers, have until June 24 and the Bowker Fertilizer company of Boston have until the same date.

Other tenants and the date upon which they must move their buildings are: C. F. Lunnagan, April 24; M. Devine, April 24; T. Austin, April 24; Harry Smith, May 24; John Garrity, June 24. The village of Brattleboro, which holds a lease to certain land upon which a sewer was laid several years ago, is notified to vacate, but this means only the making of a new lease.

The Swift Beef company was notified over a year ago that the company must move its refrigerator house, and the Twin State Gas and Electric company was notified a few weeks ago to move its gas house.

ANTI SALOON LEAGUE

Held Its Annual Meeting in Burlington To-day.

Burlington, March 19.—The annual meeting of the Vermont Anti-Saloon league was held here to-day with a good attendance. Besides the election of officers, which was scheduled to come late this afternoon, the principal feature of the meeting was the annual report of the superintendent, Rev. Clifford H. Smith, who succeeded C. J. Ferguson last September.

Supt. Smith quotes from the treasurer's report as follows: Net income for 1911, $4,381.82; disbursements, $4,320.84; disbursements included $1,144.30 on bills incurred in 1909 and $3,176.54 on bills for 1911; total expenses for the year, $3,771.14; salaries, $1,250; Sunday speakers, $415; traveling expenses, $539; clerk hire, $496.30; office expenses, $253.10; publications, $434.39. There remained at the end of the year a deficit of $520.71, which had been reduced at the beginning of the present month to $287.61.

The headquarters committee adopted a working platform, which was extensively copied in the state papers. On the basis of this platform, work is being carried on in two lines: First, the encouragement of total abstinence; second, for a no-license campaign by advice, literature, etc.

A regular meeting of Court Barre, No. 337, I. O. E., will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 sharp, in Knights of Columbus hall, Seapoint block; initiation of candidates. Per order, Frank Casani, R. S.

Regular meeting of Vincitula lodge, No. 10, Tuesday evening at 7:30. Work, rank of page.

Notice. All members of Loyal Green Mountain lodge wishing to go to Graniteville with the degree team on Friday evening, March 22, please leave their names with the secretary. Per order of secretary.

Stated convocation of Granite chapter, No. 26, R. A. M., Tuesday evening at seven o'clock.

TOO LATE TO BE CLASSIFIED.

WANTED—A strong, capable woman for general housework. Telephone 166-2. 313

FOR SALE—One Glenwood range and one parlor heater. Inquire at 64 Warren St. 317

Monday's arrivals at the hotel Otis were as follows: B. G. Barr, Boston; E. L. Wallen, Portland, Me.; John Laverty, Rutland; Mrs. L. C. Fisher, Cabot; Saul Segel, Montpelier; H. J. Boiney, Boston; Arthur Laundry, Ottawa, Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilson, Washington; K. E. Keith, Montpelier; William Bartlett, Montpelier.

A. D. Bragg of Fayston is stopping at the guest of John C. Griggs of Sumner street, while the county listers are holding their annual meeting at Montpelier to-day and to-morrow. Mr. Bragg has held the office of town lister for a period of forty-nine years and it is doubtful if this record from a point of years and efficiency can be equaled in the state.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

TUESDAY, MARCH 19, 1912.

Weather Forecast.

Fair and slightly warmer to-night. Wednesday increasing cloudiness; moderate winds, becoming south.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Nobby suits and coats at Fitts'. The Woodmen will meet to-night at 7 o'clock.

Something doing in Easter gloves. Buy now at Vaughan's.

New maple syrup in half gallons. F. D. Ladd company.

H. J. Boiney of Boston was a business visitor in this city to-day.

Many a man prefers Miers' sanitary barber service simply because it pleases.

Miss Edith Blanchard of Randolph is visiting Miss Gladys Carroll of city avenue.

Abbott has some of the best values in children's cotton dresses they have ever shown.

The Philomathian club will meet with Mrs. N. D. Phelps Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock.

Sewell Harding of Roxbury, Mass., was among the business visitors in the city yesterday.

Tickets are out for the B. A. C. minstrels to be held at the opera house April 11 and 12.

Noble S. Love of the C. W. Averill company left this morning on a short business trip to South Ryegate.

Easter rehearsal will be held at the vestry of the Universalist church on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Read the program to be given at the concert in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening. Admission 10 cents.

Miss Edith Blanchard of Randolph is stopping at the guest of Miss Gladys Carroll of Keith avenue for a few days.

Latest song hits at the Vermont Fruit store. Your choice of 500 vocal and instrumental selections published this month.

The students at Goddard seminary are hard at work "plugging" for the winter term examinations, which are to be held this week.

A. M. Flanders, 297 North Main street, is the place to get baby carriage wheels new-tired, also to repair bicycles and auto tires.

Special meeting of Bright Star Rebekah lodge, No. 18, Tuesday evening, March 19, at 7:30 o'clock. Initiation and refreshments.

Special meeting of Ruth chapter, O. E. S., No. 33, will be held in Masonic hall, Wednesday evening, March 20. Work, initiation.

Sidney P. G. Fishler, who has been spending a few days in the city on business, left this morning for his home in Leominster, Mass.

The Methodist brotherhood will hold their regular meeting on Wednesday evening, March 20, at 7:30 o'clock. All members please be present.

Miss Eula Averill of North street returned from Boston last night, where she has been visiting with friends and relatives for the past month.

All members of the Baptist Sunday school wishing to take part in the Easter exercises, please meet at the church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Nancy B. Davis of White River Junction is visiting at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Robins of French street, for a few days.

Edward Flanders of the Flanders garage left yesterday for his former home in West Lebanon, N. H., where he will spend a few days with his mother.

All children of the Methodist Sunday school who wish to take part in the Easter concert are requested to meet at the church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Tickets for the performance of "The Grain of Dust" by James K. Hackett and company at the opera house on Friday night, March 22, go on sale at Kendrick's Tuesday night at 7 o'clock.

Francisco Vignocci leaves to-night for New York and will sail from that port Thursday on the French line steamship "Espagna" for Turin, Italy, intending to go later to Milan for an extended vacation.

The Mission Study class of the Church of the Good Shepherd will meet with Mrs. H. J. Smith, Maple avenue, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All the ladies of the parish and friends are cordially invited.

The All-Star basketball team will line up against the North Barre Methodist mission's D. C. V. team. It is the rubber contest between the two aggregations and the outcome will be eagerly watched by amateur basketball fans.

Mrs. H. S. Miles of 70 North Main street wishes to announce her first spring display of tailored and ready to wear hats, shapes and designs. An informal call is suggested to women, to whom artistic and up-to-date millinery will appeal. Easter opening will be announced later.

C. A. Bemis of Williamstown, one of the largest sugar makers in this vicinity was in the city to-day buying sugar cans to meet the demand for the coming season. Mr. Bemis states that he hopes to make this year his most successful one and he looks forward to a good run.

Monday's arrivals at the hotel Otis were as follows: B. G. Barr, Boston; E. L. Wallen, Portland, Me.; John Laverty, Rutland; Mrs. L. C. Fisher, Cabot; Saul Segel, Montpelier; H. J. Boiney, Boston; Arthur Laundry, Ottawa, Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilson, Washington; K. E. Keith, Montpelier; William Bartlett, Montpelier.

A. D. Bragg of Fayston is stopping at the guest of John C. Griggs of Sumner street, while the county listers are holding their annual meeting at Montpelier to-day and to-morrow. Mr. Bragg has held the office of town lister for a period of forty-nine years and it is doubtful if this record from a point of years and efficiency can be equaled in the state.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.

Word comes from England that Cyril Maude has scored a big success in a revival of "Rip Van Winkle," and the London critics are comparing him with the late Joseph Jefferson. Few local players remember that James K. Hackett, father of the present star, who will offer "The Grain of Dust" at the opera house Friday evening, was the original actor to create the part of Rip, and himself wrote the original version of the play. Mr. Hackett, the senior, was a close friend of Washington Irving, and James K. Hackett, his son, has the original manuscript of the play which Mr. Jefferson afterwards made famous or was made famous by, just as you like.